WHITE-WILSON CELEBRATES 20 YEARS IN NICEVILLE

NICEVILLE, Fla. — April 24, 2019 – In a celebration of their 20 years in Niceville, White-Wilson invited the community to join them for a family-friendly celebration Saturday, April 13.

Families packed the parking lot of White-Wilson's Niceville campus where they enjoyed bounce houses, face painting, children's activities, food, games and visits from the North Bay Fire District and J.R. the Northwest Florida State College mascot.

"We had such a great time hosting this event," said White-Wilson CEO, Alan Gieseman. "It means so much to us to celebrate this milestone with those who have allowed us to become part of their family during the 20 years in our Niceville location."

In 1946, when Dr. Henry White first opened in Fort Walton Beach what would later be White-Wilson Medical Center, his goal was simple: to provide the community with quality health care. As the years have passed, Dr. White's legacy has reached beyond Fort Walton Beach and, in February 1999 it made its mark on the community of Niceville. For the last 20 years, White-Wilson has sought to demonstrate to the people of Niceville and the surrounding communities the standard of excellence that is associated with their name.

"We are proud to have been able to provide the highest level of care to community of Niceville for the last 20 years," said White-Wilson Medical Center President, Dr. John Dali. "We look forward to continuing to serve the area for many more years, bringing with us the best physicians and state-of-the-art technology."

White-Wilson's Niceville location offers many services to its patients, including three specialties – Family Medicine, Pediatrics and Immediate Care, as well as in-house laboratory and imaging services. All together, White-Wilson Medical offers over 20 specialties of medicine and has additional locations in Fort Walton Beach, Destin and Navarre.

Additional information on White-Wilson Medical Center, its team of physicians and range of specialties is available at white-wilson.com.
